Patrick Daly
Deputy Director/Chief Operating Officer, Secure Community Network

Patrick Daly is Deputy Director/Chief Operating Officer of the Secure Community Network (SCN), the official national homeland security and safety organization of the American Jewish Community. Mr. Daly joined SCN in 2004 as a founding member of the management team tasked with the design, development and implementation of SCN.

In his capacity as Deputy Director/COO, Mr. Daly is responsible for strategic planning, organizational and Board management and oversees all outreach, training and information sharing operations, staff and personnel.

He also serves as SCN’s primary law enforcement liaison with local, state, federal, international counterparts. In addition, Mr. Daly regularly provides reports, briefings, and other information products for senior management, community leaders and SCN members.

He has traveled to dozens of Jewish communities throughout the U.S. and Europe conducting security assessments, training and exercise programs and security briefings in conjunction with the Department of Homeland Security as part of SCN’s joint outreach programs with DHS. He also serves as an advisor and task force member for DHS Faith-Based Homeland Security initiatives and other DHS subcommittees.

Mr. Daly brings an in-depth knowledge of intelligence and security policy, research and analysis, international terrorism and violent extremism to SCN along with a portfolio that includes risk management, training and infrastructure protection strategies and programs.

He is the author/co-author of several white papers that have guided program development and policy formation for high-level government and private sector homeland security initiatives including the DHS Homeland Security Advisory Council (HSAC).

Prior to joining the Secure Community Network, Mr. Daly was a law clerk with the Philadelphia District Attorney’s Office where he worked with assistant district attorneys in the Felony Waiver Unit as part of a prosecutorial team tasked with the prosecution of felony crimes.

He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in criminal justice and a Master’s of Science degree in criminal justice with a concentration in law enforcement intelligence and crime analysis from Saint Joseph’s University in Philadelphia.

Frances Fragos Townsend is an Executive Vice President for Worldwide Government, Legal and Business Affairs at MacAndrews and Forbes Incorporated. She works across MacAndrews' portfolio companies focusing on international, legal, compliance and business development issues. Prior to that she was a corporate partner with the law firm of Baker Botts, LLP. From 2004 to 2008, Ms. Townsend served as Assistant to President George W. Bush for Homeland Security and Counterterrorism and chaired the Homeland Security Council. She also served as Deputy National Security Advisor for Combatting Terrorism from May 2003 to May 2004. Ms. Townsend spent 13 years at the U.S. Department of Justice under the administrations of President George H. W. Bush, President Bill Clinton and President George W. Bush. She has received numerous awards for her public service accomplishments. Ms. Townsend is a Director on the Board of four public companies: Freeport McMoRan, Western Union and Scientific Games and SciPlay, where she chairs or serves on: compliance, compensation, governance, corporate social responsibility and executive committees. She also serves on three private company Boards where she is Chairwoman of one and chairs all three compensation committees. Ms. Townsend is an on air senior national security analyst for CBS News and, before that, she was at CNN for seven years. Ms. Townsend currently serves on the DNI’s Senior Advisory Group and previously served on the CIA External Advisory Board and the U.S. President’s Intelligence Advisory Board. Ms. Townsend is a trustee on the Board of the New York City Police Foundation, the Intrepid Sea, Air & Space Museum, CSIS and the Atlantic Council. She also serves on the Board at the Council on Foreign Relations, on the Executive Committee of the Trilateral Commission and the Board of the International Republican Institute. She is a member of the Aspen Strategy Group.

Election 2020 Analysis

Dana Bash is CNN’s chief political correspondent based in Washington, D.C., serving as the network’s lead reporter covering both the U.S. House of Representatives and the U.S. Senate. She regularly serves as a moderator for CNN’s political town hall specials and debates, including for CNN’s first debate of the 2020 election cycle in Detroit. Bash’s CNN series, Badass Women of Washington, features women from a wide range of backgrounds and generations and shows how they have shattered glass ceilings on their way up the ranks.
Mara Liasson is a national political correspondent for NPR. Her reports can be heard regularly on NPR's award-winning newsmagazine programs Morning Edition and All Things Considered. Liasson provides extensive coverage of politics and policy from Washington, DC — focusing on the White House and Congress — and also reports on political trends beyond the Beltway. She is a regular contributor to Fox News and a panelist on Fox News Sunday.

Each election year, Liasson provides key coverage of the candidates and issues in both presidential and congressional races. During her tenure she has covered seven presidential elections — in 1992, 1996, 2000, 2004, 2008, 2012 and 2016. Prior to her current assignment, Liasson was NPR’s White House correspondent for all eight years of the Clinton administration. She has won the White House Correspondents’ Association’s Merriman Smith Award for daily news coverage in 1994, 1995, and again in 1997. From 1989-1992 Liasson was NPR’s congressional correspondent.

Liasson joined NPR in 1985 as a general assignment reporter and newscaster. From September 1988 to June 1989 she took a leave of absence from NPR to attend Columbia University in New York as a recipient of a Knight-Bagehot Fellowship in Economics and Business Journalism.

Prior to joining NPR, Liasson was a freelance radio and television reporter in San Francisco. She was also managing editor and anchor of California Edition, a California Public Radio nightly news program, and a print journalist for The Vineyard Gazette in Martha's Vineyard, Massachusetts.

Liasson is a graduate of Brown University where she earned a bachelor’s degree in American history.
